Justice Cup Winner

At the Celebration, we revealed a new component of our annual Celebration: The Justice Cup. This award was calculated based upon a weighted percentage of their investments given between May 6 and May 26 and turnout to the celebration.

The winner of the Inaugural Justice Cup is Parkside Church, who raised 100 percent of their investment drive goal. Congratulations, Rev. Colin Kerr and the Parkside Church community!

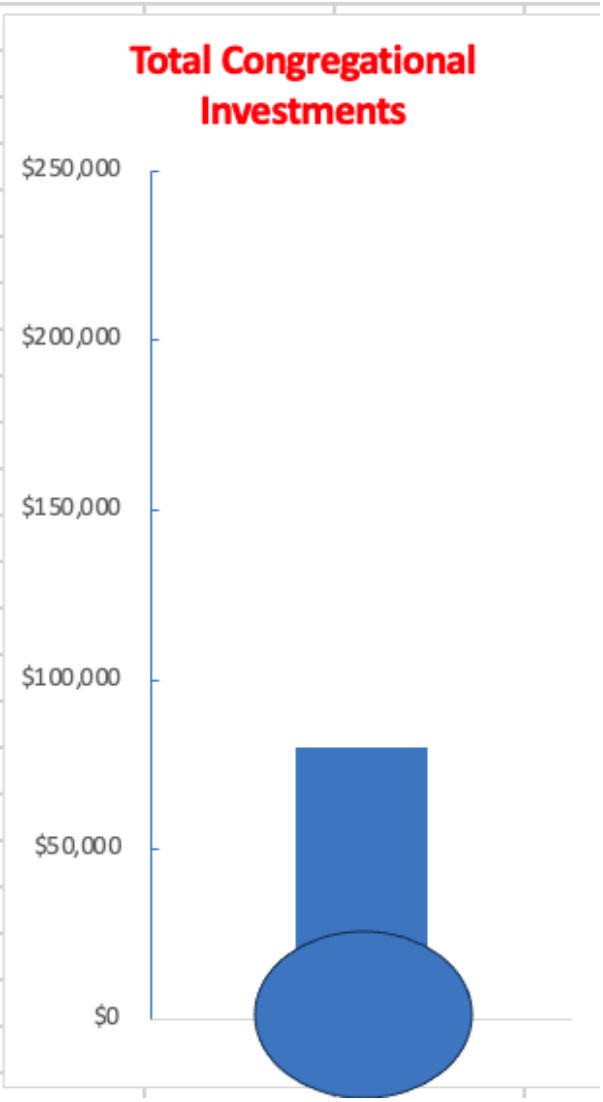
Close runner ups were St. Stephen's Episcopal, Charity Missionary Baptist and St. Paul Missionary Baptist.

In total, CAJM raised $13,130.18 at the Celebration. Thank all of you for your support.

As we begin our investment season, we encourage you to honor your commitment to the Justice Ministry by making your contribution. We've been successful over the past decade in bringing attention to critical issues and implementing solutions because each of you have faithfully given financial support. Use the link below to invest. We can't do Justice Ministry work without your help!

Investment Update



In 2024, we've raised $79,758.94 in Congregational Investments. Thank you for your contributions.

Congratulations CAJM Vice President Dr. Elise Davis-McFarland on being ordained a deacon at Morris Street Baptist Church. Dr. Davis-McFarland and Theodosia Becoate made history May 26 as the first women to be ordained deacons in the church's history. We are grateful to have Dr. Elise as part of the CAJM leadership making Charleston a more just place.
